JAMES RAMSEY.

An Edmonton Enthusiast.

"Business in Edmonton is as good or better in Edmonton than in any place I have visited, and I have been as far east as Quebec on the present trip," stated James Ramsey, head of the First street department store, this morning. "The weather here seems much better than in the east, too." Mr. Ramsey arrived back from the east this morning and was busy, busier than usual, but not too busy to make arrangements to have a half holiday each Wednesday through June, July and August for the small army of employees of his big establishment. "Business is not good in New York," he stated. "In Montreal and Toronto, it is apparently a little more advanced, but in Alberta I think even better still, on the whole Edmonton and the Edmonton district have no reason to feel pessimistic."

CAPTAIN'S SEAMANSHIP SAVED ROYAL EDWARD WHEN SHE HIT ICEBERG

London, June 1.—The Canadian Northern Steamship Royal Edward, which sailed safely at Avonmouth, Bristol, late Friday night, after an adventurous passage from Montreal and Quebec, during which she was struck by an iceberg, sustaining, however, very little damage beyond twisted stern and a few buckles.

The passengers speak very highly of Commander Wotton's coolness. When the iceberg was sighted, instead of startling the helm and risking excessive damage alongside, the captain's seamanship was conveyed to him in a congratulatory letter signed on behalf of all aboard.

Great praise was also bestowed on the stewards and crew for the way they stood their ground during a trying time.

The Empress of Ireland was spoken to by the Royal Edward, Thursday week and reported having passed ice and two bergs during the night.

Very few feet there were also accumulations of oil, and the section is covered with mud and sand, which some oil experts say are the surest indication of oil.

Mr. Lupton has drilled in practically every section of Alberta, as far north as Athabasca. Last winter he was putting down a well in the district referred to, and when he got down 200 feet, struck gas. Very few feet there were also accumulations of oil, and the section is covered with mud and sand, which some oil experts say are the surest indication of oil.

He was so struck with the prospects of oil in the vicinity that he immediately got into touch with Mr. Macdonald, the well-known development broker, and the two obtained the oil, gas and mineral rights in a large area. To do so, they did not leave the land from the dominion government, as is necessary in most cases, but bought them outright from the owner, who had secured the land before the regulations held back the mineral and oil rights.

The Maritine Petroleum Company, limited, to which Messrs. Macdonald and Lupton have sold these rights, will therefore be in a unique position, as it will pay no royalties to the government for its lease, but will simply sell them forever outright.

Mr. Lupton has been a "leg" of every well he ever drilled, and it is a distinct compliment to this district from an oil point of view that he has decided to drill there for oil, as in addition to his wide experience in Alberta he has also been in the business of oil in the continent, which are today oil producing sections.

The district is on the range of anticlines which extend from west of Wetaskiwin to the Fort McMurray district. The range which geologists have pronounced the most promising of any in the country for a large and permanent supply of oil.

"Talking about mud volcanoes," declared Mr. Lupton, "you can take a 20-foot pole, and shove it into the volcanoes, and you will find them. Indications also are that should oil be struck in this district it will not be necessary to go as far afield as in Calgary, as what should be the oil producing shales are nearer the surface."

Professor Allen Optimistic.
Prof. J. A. Allen, the noted geologist and professor of this branch of sciences at the University of Alberta, visited the district and stated that conditions were such that enormous supplies of oil would probably be found in the area. This is on account of the fact that the anticlines are more likely to be found in the area than in the Rockies, because of the latter's proximity to the foot hills.

It is necessary for an oil field to have a porous rock in which oil is secreted and also an impervious rock through which the oil cannot escape to the surface, as on the other hand, it would come out of the earth in such seepage as it was formed. With the impervious rock to hold it down, however, it must remain in large quantities in the oil formed through countless ages gathered together. These strata of rock are called anticlines, and farther away from the foot hills of the Rockies the more apt they are to be long and broad.

Undoubtedly then, the experts in the oil certainly exist. The only question is as to the exact location. Some of the most promising people of Edmonton have joined Messrs. Macdonald and Lupton in the formation of the Maritine Petroleum company, limited.

MOST PROMISING SECTION FOR OIL IN ALL ALBERTA

Strong Directorate.

"The indications in that part of Alberta for oil are much better than any other portion of the province," stated Charles Lupton, one of the most experienced drillers in Western Canada, this morning, in speaking of the district about 40 miles south of the city, where a large area of land was secured last winter for oil, mineral and gas by Mr. Lupton and H. L. Macdonald, broker, Victoria block, First street.

Mr. Lupton has drilled in practically every section of Alberta, as far north as Athabasca. Last winter he was putting down a well in the district referred to, and when he got down 200 feet, struck gas. Very few feet there were also accumulations of oil, and the section is covered with mud and sand, which some oil experts say are the surest indication of oil.

The Maritine Petroleum Company, limited, to which Messrs. Macdonald and Lupton have sold these rights, will therefore be in a unique position, as it will pay no royalties to the government for its lease, but will simply sell them forever outright.

Mr. Lupton has been a "leg" of every well he ever drilled, and it is a distinct compliment to this district from an oil point of view that he has decided to drill there for oil, as in addition to his wide experience in Alberta he has also been in the business of oil in the continent, which are today oil producing sections.

"BUSINESS" METHODS OF THE BORDEN LOAN OFFICE.

The wildness of the Dominion Government's methods of financing its virtually bankrupt partner, the Canadian Northern Railway, becomes glaringly apparent in view of the statement of Premier Sifton that the taking of a second mortgage by the Dominion Government on lines already mortgaged to the province practically releases the province from its obligations to the Canadian Northern. The Premier is not alone in this view. On the contrary it is shared by representatives of other western provinces which have granted assistance to the Canadian Northern Railway. That does not mean that these governments are going to repudiate the responsibilities which they undertook willingly and with their eyes open in order to secure railway development in western provinces.

It is, however, a curious commentary on the methods of the Borden administration that they are willing to take as security for a loan of $45,000,000—and more if it is asked for—a second mortgage on a property that already carries as heavy a mortgage as the provinces deemed safe. The business man does not need to have the position illustrated. Not a banking house or loan company in the dominion would lend money on such security.

Supposing the provinces did repudiate their liability nor that their mortgages are covered by the dominion government's mortgage, what would be the position of the Dominion Government? Even the Dominion Government's surpluses, swelled by receipts from the natural resources belonging to the western provinces, could not endure if Mr. Borden has to pay interest to all the holders of Canadian Northern bonds. Alberta alone has 2,276.57 miles of railway of the Canadian Northern and Canadian Northern Western under guarantee at a rate averaging $15,000 per mile, representing a sum of $34,148,550, which bears interest at four to four and a half per cent.

The province's security consists of the completed lines which they can, under their guarantee legislation, take over if the company defaults in the payment of interest to the bondholders. In the case of lines uncompleted the money is in the hands of the credit of the province and will not be paid out except on certificates for construction work done by the company and passed upon by the railway department. This secures the province against any possibility of the money raised on the credit of Alberta being employed in other provinces, but there is the danger, as Premier Sifton points out, that the banks may be influenced to loan money to the Canadian Northern on the strength of the money already deposited in the banks to the credit of the provincial treasurer. Canada has the reputation of having the best banking system in the world, but that reputation will not extend to the Borden administration.

CANADIAN PROBLEM MAY BECOME IMPERIAL ONE.

As it affects Canada, the Hindu problem under the circumstances may easily become an imperial one. The promoter and financier of the Hindu expedition now detained in Victoria harbor, Gundit Singh, is insisting that his compatriots have a right of entry into Canada because they are British subjects. He is said to have handled a representative of the Vancouver press a communication conveying the meaning that if Canada admits the Hindus all will be well for British rule in India, but contravention of this meaning will ensue. In plain words the Hindu leader states that the object of the coming of the Hindus was to let the British government know how it could maintain its rule in India.

Presumably the Komagata Maru expedition is a scheme for fomenting the disaffection which has been lately observable in India, and which, not so very long ago, led to the dastardly attempt on the life of its Viceroy Lord Hardinge.

Sentiments, such as Gundit Singh expresses must give rise to the question whether the policy pursued by the government of Great Britain to conquered nations altogether meets with the results anticipated by such a policy. In a nation accustomed for many centuries to have been held down by the iron heel of its rulers, any approach to a democratic form of government is apt to be misinterpreted. With equal rights allowed between conquerors and conquered there is an assumption of arrogance taken on by the latter, as the present incident and recent occurrences in India betoken.

The Hindu in the particular case at Victoria apparently does not understand, or prefers not to understand, the sovereign rights of a portion of the Empire differently constituted to his own land. Education under British lines has evidently imbued him with a sense of his own importance.

MATED OR CHECKMATED?

A New York woman has asked annulment of her marriage on a new ground. She says frankly that she was induced to marry the defendant on his representations that he had a bank account of $500 and a job that paid him $25 a week. Subsequently she discovered that he had neither bank account nor job.

There will be scant sympathy for her. If matrimony was merely a monetary investment on her part she ought to have taken greater precautions against being buncoed. As there is nothing in the contract requiring her husband to produce the bank account or the pay envelope she cannot sue him for false pretense. And if he was guilty of that she confesses herself equally incriminated. The general verdict will be that both got about what was their due. He deceived her about his financial standing and she deceived him as to her affections. It is a case of checkmating that the courts will probably leave them to figure out for themselves.

At the same hour, less than 50 miles away, Umballah stood before the opening of his elaborate tent, erected at sundown by the river's brink, and looked at the moon. He was no beauty in the translucent sky. In the silvery paleness of the world below, he was a dark figure, and he was no beauty in the translucent sky. In the silvery paleness of the world below, he was a dark figure, and he was no beauty in the translucent sky. In the silvery paleness of the world below, he was a dark figure, and he was no beauty in the translucent sky.

In the compound the moonlight lay upon everything; and the fat sides and back of the sacred white elephant, upon the three low caste keepers, now free of the vigilant eye of their Brahmin chief. The gates were barred and closed, all inside the house of the Khan were asleep. Far away a sentry dozed on his rifle, on the wall. The three keepers whispered and chuckled among themselves.

"Who will know?" said one.
"The moon will not speak," said another.

"Then let us go and smoke," said another.

The three approached the elephant. A bit of gymnastics and one of them was hoisted to the back of the elephant, to whom the episode was new or less familiar. Another followed; the third was pulled up, and from the elephant's back they made the top of the wall and disappeared down into the street. Here they paused cautiously, for two guards always patrolled the front of the compound during the night. Presently the three trunks stole away towards the bazaar, which, in the moonlight, appeared but a few feet away. Down they went into a cellar way, and the guru's cork stalked beside them. For opium is the hand-maiden of all crimes.

Perhaps 20 minutes later slight sounds came from the front of the compound wall. A rifle barrel poked up, then the cobbles. Then, over the wall, near the elephant, a head appeared, then a body. This was repeated four times, and four light-footed nomads of the desert loosed themselves into the compound. They ran quickly to the gate and noiselessly unbarred it. Outside were five more desert nomads, gathered about the invisible bodies of the sentries.

These nine men were the dancers who had entered the tent in advance of Kathryn. For weeks they had laid in wait for this moment. They had slipped upon the three low caste keepers and, upon learning of their nocturnal junkets into the opium den, had had that die this night.

With the utmost caution they approached the sacred elephant, took off his chains, and led him from the compound. Immediately six of the raiders trotted far ahead toward the gate they knew to be the least guarded. The sacred elephant, passing through the streets, attended by three men, so seemingly impregnable, and so little interfered with, that it was only his man that its guardians should eventually grow careless.

When the keepers, staggered under the fumes of the drug, returned near daylight, first to find the gate open, secondly, to find their sacred charge gone, they fled in terror; for it would be death, lingering and painful, for them to stay and explain how and why they had left their post.

The wild and lawless brigands knew exactly what they were about. There were several agents of the British and American consuls after this white elephant, and as it could not be purchased there was no reason why it could not be stolen.

When the Brahmin arrived at sunrise to find his vocation gone, he set up a wailing which awakened the household. The Khan was furious and ordered a general search. He vowed death to the foul hands which had done this sacrilege!

Kathryn and the others were genuinely sorry when the Khan announced what had taken place.

Said he: "Come here, you are all skilled hunters. Find me my elephant and these guns, and newer and surer men shall protect you from Durza Ram, should he take it into his head to come this way."

The colonel, Bruce and Kambal set out at once. After they had gone a camel rider entered the compound and sought audience with Bala Khan. Kathryn and Pundita were in the compound at the time, and the former was greatly interested in the saddle bags, attached to one of which was a binocular case. Kathryn could not resist the inclination to open this case. It contained an exceptionally fine pair of glasses, such as were used in that day in the British army. No doubt they were a part of some boy's kit.

Suddenly an idea came to her. She asked permission (through Pundita) to ride the camel outside the town. After some argument the servant in charge consented.

Upon a knoll outside the city—a hill-top of about 300 or 400 feet in height—Kathryn tried the glasses. From this promontory she had a range of something like 15 or 20 miles. Back and forth her gaze roved and suddenly paused.

RUSSIAN CITIZENS PROTEST AGAINST MIS-STATEMENTS

Resent Attack on Minister of Education Made in Their Name.

TACTICS OF NEWS-PAPER NOWNY ARE DENOUNCED

Agitator's Calumnies Bring Quick Rejoinder From All Over Province.

Meetings of Russian farmers in Alberta are being held in various parts of the province to protest against the attack, in their name, by the conservative newspaper, Nowny, and its editor, H. Kremer, on the Hon. John R. Boyle, minister of education, and the government in connection with the department of education's policy on schools among foreigners. One of these meetings was held on Thursday night at Mundara and was attended by farmers from Mundara, Chicom, Shandona and other districts.

A bitter attack was made on the minister of education by Nowny, on account of the printing of the Alberta school ordinance in the Russian Etymological prospect, it being contended by that paper that the people did not understand that language. This allegation was denied by several speakers at the meeting, among others by the Rev. Ilozky, pastor of the Russian Orthodox church at Mundara, the Rev. Korychinsky, a pioneer missionary among the Russian people of Alberta, by P. Korychinsky, a Russian farmer, as well as by numerous farmers. Similar meetings have been held at Rabbit Hills and elsewhere.

Those present at these meetings entirely disassociated themselves with the attacks made on the minister of education and denounced the tactics of Nowny. Speakers present expressed the view that the newspaper in a limited use of the Russian language in the circulars printed was the one they had always understood and they resented being styled "Ukrainians or Russians" by Nowny.

Resolutions were passed asking Russia to be more just in its dealings with itself with Nowny.

EDMONTON BRIGADE MUCH THE FINEST

Glasgow City Officials See Run by Department and Give High Praises.

UNQUESTIONABLY IS BEST Scots Glad Former Townsman Heads Most Competent Force in West.

For swiftness of action, perfection of equipment and all-round competency, the Edmonton fire department far surpasses those of any of the cities visited by the Glasgow officials who were the guests of the city last week. Such was the verdict of Thomas McMillan, senior magistrate of the city of Glasgow, after seeing a run by the department.

Being chairman of the Glasgow fire fighting committee in charge of the fire fighting equipment of that city, Mr. McMillan is particularly interested in the Canadian fire departments. After a consultation with city officials, Mr. McMillan expressed a desire to see the Edmonton department in action. Commissioner Booth arranged for the trial run and Mr. McMillan, with Alexander Walker, assessor of Glasgow, turned in an alarm and held a watch to time the arrival of the department.

When the motor apparatus and the horse-drawn equipment dashed up in response to the call, the Scottish fire commissioner was enthusiastic over the showing made by the fire fighting brigade.

"You unquestionably have the best department that we have seen in any of the Canadian cities visited during our tour," he declared, turning to Chief Lauder, who was at his elbow. "The time of response is nothing to be asked, the equipment is perfect, and the competency of your men leaves nothing to be asked."

"I am proud of the fact that a Glasgow man is the head of so efficient an organization," he concluded in compliment to Chief Lauder's birthplace.

The Pistol Problem.

Speaking of pistols—they are speaking of them quite freely just now in Chicago—there were in four years and three months 1,292 deaths due to pistols of these at least were registered. There were 619 murders and 673 suicides. In Britain, where the pistol is under the heaviest regulations, there have been 100 murders a year. In the United States, where the pistol practically has perfect freedom, there are 10,000 murders a year. Chicago's list of 1,292 deaths in four years and three months exceeds the mortality of many a famous battle. The proportion of murders in the United States in which the pistol is the weapon used is very large—far more than 50 per cent. This gives the pistol a greater annual slaughter list than many a modern war. In New York, under a strict restrictive law, only partially enforced, murders decreased in one year 20 per cent. These figures speak for themselves. The answer to the pistol problem is made perfectly plain, is it not?

Emperor William, of Germany, smokes 10 cigars every day. They cost $40 per hundred.

"KINGDOM OF THULE" IS NOT EASY TO RULE

New York, June 1.—On the eve of his departure for England at the conclusion of a three months' lecture tour of the British universities, the Hon. Sir John Stoughton, professor of the history of the United States of Oxford University made it known yesterday that he was Laird of Foulis, one of the last known and strangest of the Shetland Islands.

The island over which the Oxford professor bids away is said to be the same described by Agrippa as "Ultima Thule," which the Roman soldiers first sighted in the first century when first rounded the Orkney Islands and concluded that they had reached the end of the world. Therefore Professor Stoughton lays claim to the title, "King of Thule."

The domain of the "King of Thule" is 20 miles west of mainland in latitude 60.8 north and longitude 2 west. It is an area of five square miles, and its cliffs rise out of the sea to a height at some places of 1,400 feet. It is populated by about 200 real descendants of the Norsemen of old.

Professor Holborn, who left New York City following his last lecture at St. Marks on the Bowdrie, is wondering what kind of reception his subjects will give him. The last time he was on the island of Foulis, at the end of a three years' absence, he found the inhabitants had been driven off. They had overrun their own small farms and had seized even the ground and buildings apart from their ruler. When the King of Thule requested them to vacate his premises they refused. As the island of Foulis was quite independent of recognized moral and legal standards, the inhabitants were not disposed until police officers were hired by the ruler. It took the latter three years to regain possession of the buildings and land for the governing head of the island.

"Thule is a primitive place," said Professor Holborn, "and the inhabitants are little used in a limited use of property. However, there are among the islanders some of the most intelligent and energetic people of the world that would be expected of people so apparently isolated."

Quite comparatively recent years have seen a great change in the life of the island. Many of their houses today have stamped mud floors and holes in the roofs for chimneys. There is not a plow or a wheeled vehicle on the island, except the road-barrow, and even that is regarded with suspicion by the conservative Foulisians, who are averse to innovations.

Blanche Tinsell, who has been a student of the Manual Arts high school, has dropped her French course to take up cooking.

This marriage makes the fourth invasion of Cupid into the school within six months.

House of Lords Would Grant Divorce Only For Desertion.

London, June 1.—Another divorce law reform bill has come to the front in addition to Lord Gorell's matrimonial causes bill.

Lord Gorell's measure, introduced in the house of lords last week, contains recommendations both of the majority and minority reports of the royal commission which recently inquired into the working of the divorce laws.

That of the minority report is signed by the Archbishop of York, Sir Wm. Anson, M.P., Sir Lewis Dilling, and the late Lord Gorell.

The majority report goes further and its recommendations are embodied in a bill which has been read for the first time in the house of commons. This bill is supported by the Divorce Law Reform Union. The secretary of the union, when interviewed, said that it would be pushed forward in preference to Lord Gorell's measure.

"Our bill," he said, "gives perfect equality between the sexes. It would enable any married man or woman to sue for divorce on any of the following grounds: Misconduct, desertion for three years or upward, cruelty, incurable insanity after five years confinement, habitual drunkenness, and imprisonment under a coroner's death sentence. Lord Gorell's bill, on the other hand, although it puts the sexes on an equality, does not allow divorce on any grounds save that of desertion for seven years."

DECLARES SANITARY CONDITIONS OF MANY MILK FARMS ARE BAD

Sanitary conditions on many of the farms surrounding Edmonton are not such as to permit the sale of milk from the dairies connected with them within the city. Of 15 farmers who applied for licenses to sell milk in Edmonton, only 10 were granted them. Inspector H. C. Graham, who visited each of the establishments named in the petition, stated this morning that in some instances, the conditions surrounding the cows were trifling. He declared that some of the farm buildings were so filthy that milk sold from the farms would be a menace to public health.

"It is required that all buildings be whitewashed and kept strictly clean," he declared. "Also that a milk house be constructed on the farm from where the milk is to be sold. Many of the farms refused to do this, and he said that the profits from the sale of milk would not warrant the outlay. Of course, we cannot compel them to keep their places in a sanitary condition, but we can prevent the sale of milk from such farms throughout the city."

Senator Olla James, of Kentucky, during his law practice defended 59 men accused of murder and freed all of them.

Notice

This is to inform the public of Edmonton that two years ago I sold all my interest in the Crystal Palace Clothing Co., Ltd., and leased them the store at the corner of McDougall and Jasper avenues. The lease expired the first of May, 1914, and the Crystal Palace Clothing Co., Ltd., moved. The present owners of that company are J. S. Berkmann and C. Horowitz. The store at McDougall and Jasper will be known hereafter as the "Crystal Store."

FASHION'S LATEST FANCIES.

Capes and Again Capes.

Yes, on all sides do we see capes, long ones and very short ones, and then those that we have to look at twice to see if they are boleros, capes or a combination of both. The majority of them are combination affairs. They are not just like the capes of old. Some of them are fastened with straps that cross in the front and fasten at the back, others have little veils, while others appear to be attached to the backs of short jackets. But all of them are fascinating to most women. Quite real or at least military is the fashion. Late Colonial Hair.

"BEAUTY IS ONLY SKIN DEEP" IS THE SKIN EMPIRE FEATURE

William A. Brady's clever farce, "Beauty is Only Skin Deep" is the headline offering of the Orpheum vaudeville bill at the Empress theater the first half of this week. It is a comedy of exceptional worth. Not only is it well produced, but the playwright has made it worth while by giving prominence to her observations of real life. The theme deals with the wife of a western senator who finds that her husband is slipping away from her and becoming infatuated with an adventuress, because she is growing old-fashioned, and to circumvent the vampire at her own game, goes to a renowned beauty parlor and is "fixed up."

The details of the sketch are well worked up. The husband, an old-fashioned senator, is a medium, an old-fashioned senator, is a medium, an old-fashioned senator, is a medium.

AT THE EMPRESS

"SIXTY YEARS A QUEEN" IS PUT ON TODAY AT THE EMPRESS THEATRE

This is the day for which every loyal Edmonstorian has been waiting. The marvelous seven reel photo-play production "Sixty Years a Queen" will be for the first time shown today at the Empress theatre, beginning a four day special engagement.

This feature, as nearly everyone knows, depicts scenes in the life and reign of her late majesty Queen Victoria, who for 64 years guided the throne of Great Britain.

Of course no pretense is made that the queen herself posed for the films, but those who have seen the films upon exhibition have remarked upon the wonderful similarity of the women they have chosen to represent Queen Victoria at the different stages of her reign. The accuracy of the different scenes, however, can not be put as they were the same in the days of Victoria as they are today and for that reason cannot help but be accurate.

It is worthy of note that after the film had been exhibited in England, the wonderful historic value of the production was called to the attention of the authorities and as a result a correct copy has been purchased and will remain the property of the British government.

Pitting music will be rendered by the accomplished members of the Empress Concert orchestra, as also special selections on the large Empress pipe organ so that the utmost can be appreciated from this, one of the greatest historical and interesting film productions ever brought to Edmonton.

BAREFOOT DANCER PORTOLA THEATRE DURING THIS WEEK

A series of classical dances including the famous Spanish dance, will be given at the Portola this week by Artherva Yajur Indra, the premiere danseuse in the Orient the last two years.

Mrs. Indra's dances are something different than have ever before been presented in America. Her first act, "The Indian Dance," is a beautiful and graceful representation of the young girl in the forest who hears the call of the spirits. She gradually changes into them and finally achieves fall in her mad passion.

In the second dance, she is a young girl, who feeling the call of the forest, is in her very soul a wild creature. She will also present an act of the Indian dance, "The Indian Dance," which is a beautiful and graceful representation of the young girl in the forest who hears the call of the spirits.

Industrial Edmonstorian in "Movies." The Canadian Feature Film company, who are erecting a new plant here, have arranged with the leading manufacturing plants to photograph their entire processes and present the same with a film comprising views of the entire city, public buildings, etc. Upon its completion this film will be presented in all the towns and cities of the entire province. This is the form of publicity that will bring Edmonstoria forcibly before the public, as the city has advanced so rapidly that many material changes have taken place.

After the completion of the film the film will be turned over to the Ad club for further exploitation, and will be shown in the theatre in the same manner as the pictures in the Ad club.

Mr. A. J. Aylesworth, who is the president of the film company, promises some success in this line, which will be an entire Edmonstorian product. In fact, the film company will soon be one of the leading manufacturing plants in the city, as the entire work will be done here.

Mr. Aylesworth states that the conditions are very favorable here for picture work, as the beautiful scenery of the Rockies and foothills are very suitable for local, and his entire company and staff will make their homes here.

Dead Necklaces. The necklace which affords an exact match to some other item of the outfit strikes a very attractive note just now.

The making of a chain of this kind—choosing the beads, and the choice of a brightly colored tie or set of buttons—is a favorite hobby. The work is perfect for evening, when large pieces of embroidery are troublesome, from the point of view of packing.

Some of the prettiest are those which are a mixture of a single and triple tie chain, composed of large, roughly cut beads, crystals and pearls of all sizes, and tiny beads and pearls.

Borrow and Soule. Great souls attract souls as mountains attract storms—Richter.

SUFFRAGETTES MAKE THEMSELVES HEARD IN TWO CATHEDRALS

London, June 1.—A militant suffragette evading the watchful officials in St. Paul's cathedral, made the steps of the lectern at the morning service yesterday and harangued the astonished worshippers upon "The wrongs of women."

The archdeacon had just concluded reading the lesson when a woman ran from her seat to the lectern, and grasping the iron work, addressed the congregation for about a minute, despite the efforts of the ushers to dislodge her.

She was finally carried bodily from the cathedral.

Other suffragettes then began praying for "Martyred women." They were also ejected.

There were similar scenes in the Birmingham cathedral yesterday, the women rising in their seats and shouting. In the name of Christ, stop forcible feeding.

WESTMINSTER PASTOR MAY GO TO WINNIPEG; HAS UNANIMOUS CALL

A unanimous call for the return to the King Memorial Presbyterian church of Winnipeg of the Rev. D. M. McLachlan, minister, who has been absent from his post health since arriving in Edmonton to take charge of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Edmonton, may result in his return to his former charge. Rev. Mr. McLachlan has been in the Westminster church since last October and since that time despite his failing health he has rendered valuable service to that church.

The Winnipeg congregation offers the Edmonton pastor $2500 a year, a house and an annual six weeks vacation. Rev. Mr. McLachlan, however, declares that should he accept the call he would not be on such a vacation.

ESKIMOS DIVIDE DOUBLE-HEADER WITH REGNARD SOX; CLAYTON LOST 3-0; BEARMAN WINS 9 TO 5

Butteroff Held Eskimos to Four Scanty Hits in Afternoon Contest—Edmonton Scored Seven Runs in the Sixth in Evening Game—This was Rhoads' One Bad Inning.

Regina, June 1.—Northern's Southern and Stie's Sluggers divided the double bill Saturday. The afternoon game was about the snappiest staged in the capital. Stie took up the team to good advantage, sending Casey Smith to the outfield and putting Wilson in at short where he performed in spectacular fashion. Butteroff proved a real come back and with the steady support had no difficulty in blanking the Eskimos who were able to get on only four separated singles. The afternoon game was the second when with the bases full by means of two walks and a single, Manager Stie sent two of them home with a wicked drive which further failed to reach in the gate of wind that blew all day. Regia's error following two singles gave a third run in the third inning. The evening game was a free hitting affair and Edmonton scored seven runs, trouncing the Eskimos in the sixth, setting seven runs. Outside of the one inning, Rhoads looked like a big league pitcher. Score, first game—R H E
Edmonton 021 000 0-0-4 1
Regina 000 000 0-0-0 1

Second game—R H E
Regina 000 011 00-5-9 5

The afternoon contest was one of the best seen in Regina this year, the Red Sox working to good advantage and showing up well. Butteroff held the edge on Jack Clayton in the pitching duel and was given complete support in the field. Their 3 to 0 shutout was well earned and at no time were the Eskimos in any way to score. The evening contest was of a different variety. The Red Sox had been playing good baseball up to the eighth inning and had a 2-2 score against the Edmonton team, but in the sixth the Edmonton went up and the Eskimos shot across seven runs and won the game. This inning was one succession of hits and runs and was played thus: Further, first up, and center and went to third on O'Brien's double to left, and scored when Povey singled to right, Goldie smashed a high fly, center, but Moore, Smith let the ball drop between them and the ball was up for fair. O'Brien scoring on the snuff, Russell singled to left, and Jack Smith who fielded the ball, zinged it to the plate, but neither Roth was not there and Povey and Goldie came home on the passed ball. Matt then tapped an easy rounder to Rhoads, who fumbled it to center and between his legs. Russell came home and Matt was safe on the bag. The next two men went out, but Povey up again, hit another binkle and Nordie and Matt scored. O'Brien went

Moose Jaw, June 1.—The Millers and Bronks broke even in a double header, played on Saturday, the former taking the matinee six to one while Devereaux and his hand capped a most uninteresting score 14-3. The first game was good all the way with Jarrett on the mound for Moose Jaw out pitching Gloomy Loomis for the visitors. The evening game was a fierce exhibition. Brown started on the slab for Moose Jaw and lasted only two innings. Gavin went in in the third and worked well until the fifth when Calgary chased across no less than eight runs. The locals made five errors in this frame and Gavin lasted two innings. The score—First game: Moose Jaw 310 000 6-13-2
Calgary 000 010 00-1-1-1

QUAKERS CAPTURE TWO FROM HATTERS

Martin Had Hard Luck in First Game—Pitched Great Ball, But Lost.

Saskatoon, June 1.—By taking both ends of a double header from the Hatters here Saturday, the Quakers made their eighth straight win, and Saturday's win, which now numbers seven, was a splendidly played game, allowing three in a row to the Quakers. Martin, who appeared here in the first game, pitched a wonderful game, allowing only three hits until the last inning, two hits and a walk gave the Quakers enough to win. The game was Martin's all the way, but ended 4 to 3 against him. The second game was a Quaker battle, although the Hatters' errors in the first inning were responsible for 2 runs in the first inning. There was a strong wind and the dust on the field was terrible. The Quakers scored the frame, one run behind and up to this time were unable to connect with Martin's delivery. With one out Harper singled and Walters walked and Flanagan went in as a pinch hitter and laid down a bunt which rested about two feet fair on the third base line. Harper tied the score when he came in on Collins sacrifice fly. Two men out and the score tied when Harper hit a long third base line for two bases, scoring Walters. Score: First game—Quakers 6, Hatters 3. Second game—Quakers 6, Hatters 3.

WANDERERS AND AMATEURS PLAY EXCITING TIE CRICKET MATCH

After Hours of Exciting Play, Score Stood at Tie, 163 Runs—Jarman's 68 and 49 by Jennings Were Highest—Was Best Game of Season, With Both Teams Playing Top Speed.

Perhaps the most exciting match yet played this season was that which took place between the Wanderers and Amateurs on Saturday afternoon, on the former club's ground at the City park. In accordance with the latest ruling of the league it was agreed beforehand between the opposing captains that, if necessary, play should be continued till 7.30 p.m.

Jarman Scored 68.
The Amateurs won the toss, and at a quarter of 2.30 p.m. took the field, deciding to have the Wanderers bat first. The latter opened with Whitehouse and Chalk, but put up a good performance, till at the score of 23 Chalk was bowled by C. S. Parker, after a well placed innings of 41. Whitehouse was then joined at the wicket by N. Lee, who was unlucky in being bowled after 4 runs. Jarman then came in to take up the partnership with Whitehouse, and these two played a splendid game, till at the score of 163, Whitehouse was dismissed by being caught at point, having contributed a first-class 41. With the retirement of Lee, who knocked up a quick 14, the remainder of the Wanderers' team failed to reach double figures, and at the fall of the 10th wicket the Wanderers had amassed the total of 163, Jarman carrying his bat with a splendidly played innings of 49 not out. When it is remembered that Jarman went in third wicket down after having lost the whole innings, it must be admitted that this was a really fine exhibition, especially as the Amateurs were well known to be "cheap mustards" in the field, and they certainly lived up to their reputation, very few chances being missed.

Jennings' Good Score.
At a little after 5 p.m. the Amateurs went in to bat, opening with Dixon and S. G. Parker. The latter was dismissed at the score of 15, 11 of which he contributed himself. Dixon, who evidently had a bad foot and was somewhat inconvenienced by it, was then joined by Jennings, when at the score of 64 Dixon was bowled, having made 18. The fielding of the Wanderers was not by any means up to form, and Jennings should easily have been caught, but he had only three to his credit. As it was he contributed a very useful figure, although he gave two more chances, but was lucky in that both were missed, as were several others, and had they been taken there is hardly any doubt but what the Wanderers would have won by quite a fair margin. Even so it was the last ten minutes of play were those with excitement. The Wanderers had only two more wickets to get to win, while the Amateurs had but some 15 runs to get to do likewise. However, when the umpires called time the Amateurs had aggregated the same number of runs as their opponents, viz. 163. As will be easily seen, this was an extremely close game, and at the call of time the Amateurs started but one run to give them the victory.

Notable individual scores were:
For the Wanderers, Jarman 68 not out, Whitehouse 41, Chalk 21, and D. Lee 19.

For the Amateurs, Jennings 49, A. Parker 34, B. Parker 20, and Dixon 19.

Presentation By The EDMONTON CAPITAL

Willis J. Abbot, the versatile writer on international subjects and author of many books of history and travel, spent months in Panama and the Canal Zone in the preparation of this volume. He collected at first hands the complete history of the great Canal, with a wealth of historical data concerning Panama which has never before been written. The result is a human interest story of this beautiful land and its people from the early days when Columbus tried to find a natural waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, down to the present time.

Special staff photographers made the hundreds of beautiful views which illustrate practically every page of this exhaustive book.

The well-known artist, E. J. Read, made the sixteen sumptuous water-color studies which are reproduced by the latest color processes on specially made paper.

The Panama Canal, the greatest engineering achievement of the world's history, cost more than $400,000,000

It links the two greatest oceans, and becomes the most important factor in peace and war. So where is the red-blooded inhabitant of this globe that does not feel vitally interested in it? Truly it is the wonder of this progressive age!
